

IMPORTANT FACTORY ORDER NOTICE

This notice is to advise that the time to be able to factory order any 2010 Ford, Chrysler, Audi and Volkswagen vehicle is rapidly coming to an end. The factories will be accepting and building the final orders, then shutting down to prepare for 2011. Some models have already built out for the 2010 model year.

The manufacturers have announced their deadline dates for special ordering 2010 vehicles this year which starts as early as Friday, March 12th, 2010. If you intend to take possession of a new vehicle before October 2010, then it is crucial that we discuss your vehicle interest(s) in detail and attempt to solidify your factory order as soon as possible. Please bear in mind that it will take at least 75 DAYS from the time that your order is placed to have the vehicle built and delivered to a courtesy delivering dealer in your vicinity. It is recommended that your factory orders be placed as soon as possible to make sure that the factory has the availability for the options, packages, colors that you require. You may order most models until the 'Absolute Final Date' listed below, but orders placed after the 'Safe Date' will be placed on a 'best efforts basis' as we cannot guarantee that the factory will be able to accommodate your order.

To insure that your vehicle order is accepted and built, it is recommended that your order be placed by the 'Safe Date' indicated below.
